

The Black Sea

The Tea Party

Adrift and cut loose on the darkest of seas
The devil looked back, just ignore all their pleas
Setting a course through the seas of the soul
Celebrate all of the stories you sold
Celebrate all of the stories you sold

Now you feel so free
Sailing on
On the black, black sea
The black, black sea

Waves crash around you
Lost in the night
On the black, black sea
The black, black sea

Abandon your ship and dispense with those ways
All of those puppets, they led you astray
Sirens will guide you, you swim for the stars
The further you travel the closer you are
Yeah, the further you travel the closer you are

Now you feel so free
Sailing on
On the black, black sea
The black, black sea

Waves crash around you
Lost in the night
Darkness surrounds you
On the black, black sea
The black, black sea

Waves crash around you
You're losing the light
Darkness surrounds you
Lost in the night
On the black, black sea
