

One by One

The Ting Tings

They said we needed patience
Well, it's been a long time
People get alone
When it goes off

We should never listen
Not necessary at all
We stand alone
And though serious
We should be having them

One by one
We should be having them
One by one

They will always come in
It's just a matter of time
We are not fools
They are not kind
Even in these new days
When the damage is done
There's a time and a place
Where you can get strong
We should be having them

One by one
We should be having them
One by one
We should be having them
One by one
We should be having them

Tried tried tried
To make you see
Tried tried tried
To make you believe in me
Tried tried tried
To make you see
Tried tried tried
To believe in me

We should be having them
One by one
We should be having them
One by one
We should be having them
One by one

And it feels so good
And it feels so good
