

For Hallis

The Tiny

i look in your eyes
they're leading me down to down to your skies

all stars lose their glow there always betrayed by the doors to your eyes

i follow his hand
it's leading me down to
down to the land

wildflowers can't grow there always betrayed the doors to the scam

i see it's here again
soon you'll be gone
i see your window across the yard where i come from
