

Naked

The Trews

Your stubborn skin is wearing thin
You bared your sould I waltzed right in
You gave me everything
And I just made you feel so very
Naked and you don't remember
How you let yourself become so unraveled

You spilled your guts on my best shoes
I keep it in, you let it loose
It's only love that makes you feel like I'm getting
So completely
Naked and you don't remember
How you let yourself become so unraveled
Your naked pretty as a heartache
Waiting for your second skin to settle in

My hardened heart can't hide me now
It loves as much as I allow
And in the end the eyeball army will just drag me down
And I'll be

Naked
Nothing but a heartache
And I know there's nothing that can hide me now
I'm naked
Nothing but a heartache
Going out exactly how
You came in
