

My Time (has Come)

The Twilight Singers

There's a girl lying at my door, i would die just to taste her blood some more i knew a girl dying at my door for another hit, she gave me her soul

on and on come on baby let me set you free if you're up for it, knock and we're rolling through the scenery

in my bed as i lie undead, making love to the snake inside my head on the floor, like a beautiful whore what you love never comes 'til you run, and love it some more

on and on come on

seem unwell, look like hell, but i don't play, i've come a long way i've come a long way, i've come a long way since sunday, girl, get running

take a drive where your mind will cease to feel stay alive if you feel you can't stand still come on baby while it's light outside if you're up for it, knock and we're rolling on a who ride cuz i know that my time has run yet i know that my trial goes on and on come on
thru the scenery.

on and on come on baby let me set you free if you know what i don't come on over here and teach me
