

Underneath The Waves

The Twilight Singers

Take me to a place, high above the tide Underneath the waves, where I can come inside
A reveille, told in fractured time Only in this way, will I become alive fill me with your love, I'm standing by
You and you alone, don't ask me why There's an inner place, I cannot find so s-o-l, and petrified
So, everytime, you blow your mind
I wait for you, you never come You're bleeding through, I must be numb
And you are just a dream, I cannot find From under what you see, don't ask me why don't leave it alone, my love, my wreckage I ain't to weak to run, tho slow, I'm coming once I count the numbers down, to the end or there around Free or thus, forever bound, for forever's coming down And finally... fill me with your love, I'm by your side
You and you alone, don't ask me why
For you I will be there, I just can't hide
From way beyond the glare, I'll tell you why
