

Thrill Me

The Undertones

Do you remember I used to say all the sweetest things to make you stay
I kept believing that things would change, that these delusions were nothing strange

I never thought you loved me,
I had to leave the world behind
Like the open sky above me
You thrill me all the time

Unknown emotions would wear me down,
If tears were kisses, I'm already drowned
But my expression could make you see,
The hesitation that would come over me

I never thought you loved me,
I had to leave the world behind
Like the open sky above me
You thrill me all the time

I see everything you do, and I've done everything you say
Can't get close to you,
But maybe someday (hey maybe someday)

SOLO

I never thought you loved me,
I had to leave the world behind
Like the open sky above me
You thrill me all the time (2x)

You thrill me, you thrill me
You thrill me all the time
