Old Man Wise

The Union

Said she was an angel, she was mending broken wings Told me she could teach me how to fly There's no easy answer and illusions that I hold I watch her chase the dragon every night

Screeching in my head It's burning in my bed I'm looking within I'm looking without I'm searching for signs of life The answers are there Does anybody care? Would you talk to me, Old Man Wise

Said he was a saviour, and his mission was to heal Brought him joy to take away their pain By the thousands they would swarm, like moths around the light Blinded by his image and his name

Screeching in my head It's burning in my bed The truths in side of you Is it alive or dead?

Screeching in my head It's burning in my bed I'm looking within I'm looking without I'm searching for signs of life The answers are there Does anybody care? Would you talk to me, Old Man Wise

Screeching in my head It's burning in my bed I'm looking within I'm looking without I'm searching for signs of life The answers are there Does anybody care? Would you talk to me, Old Man Wise

I'm looking within I'm looking without I'm searching for signs of life The answers are clear Does anybody hear? To talk to me, Old Man Wise
