

Pain Behind Your Eyes

The Union

Another day has come and left you
So breathless and alone again
I know you're swimming in emotions
And these chains will bring you down
The smile that's on your face is just a show

You run, you hide
But I know right where you are
You live, you laugh
But I see through your disguise
I know, you hear
My conscience in your mind
You bleed, I die
I always feel the pain behind your eyes

Another friend has come and left you
It's getting hard to recognize the truth
I know so every time they lie to you
I read between the lines
The smile that's on your face is just a show

You run, you hide
But I know right where you are
You live, you laugh
But I see through your disguise
I know, you hear
My conscience in your mind
You bleed, I die
I always feel the pain behind your eyes

You can't find your way back home
You will never be alone
