

Born to Quit

The Used

Exercise the demon that's been living up inside you
After all you think you've been through
Just what have you been through
Try to get beside yourself this tearing at your insides
Will you end up on the wrong side
Always standing so strong
Sharpen up your teeth your dreams are more than worth defending
In a fight that's never ending
Go on, go ahead and prove me wrong
Chorus
The further you go the less you'll know
You're born to quit
You've blown it (you've blown it)
You need to let go of letting go
You're full of shit
You're born to quit
Something supernatural it seems it could possess you
No malevolence about you than that might not be true (that might not be true)
How they care to demonize the fucked up situation
How you killed off all the angels taking notice of you
Sharpen up your teeth your dreams are more than worth defending
In a fight never ending
Go on, go ahead and prove me wrong
Chorus
The further you go the less you'll know
You're born to quit
You've blown it (you've blown it)
You need to let go of letting go
You're full of shit
You're born to quit
You've blown it
You're born to quit
Sharpen up your teeth your dreams are more than worth defending
On a fight that's never ending
Go on, go ahead and prove me wrong
Chorus
The further you go the less you'll know
You're born to quit
You've blown it (you've blown it)
You need to let go of letting go
You're full of shit
You're born to quit
You've blown it
You're born to quit
You've blown it (3x)
