

Hurt No One

The Used

I never meant to hurt no one
Nobody ever tore me down like you
I think you knew it all along
And now you'll never see my face again
I never meant to hurt nobody
And I will never see the sun again
I wonder where the guilt had gone
I think of what I have become and still
I never meant to hurt nobody
Now I'm taking what is mine
Letting go of my mistakes
Build a fire from what I've learned
And watch it fade away
Because I have no heart to break
I cannot fake it like before
I thought that I could stay the same
And now I know that I'm not sure
I even love me anymore
I never meant to hurt no one
Sometimes you gotta look the other way
It never should have lasted so long
A shame you'll never see my face again
I never meant to hurt nobody
I know I'll never be the same again
No taking back of what I've done
I think of what I've become
And still
I never meant to hurt nobody
Now I'm taking what is mine
Letting go of my mistakes
Build a fire from what I've learned
And watch it fade away
Because I have no heart to break
I cannot fake it like before
I thought that I could stay the same
And now I know that I'm not sure
I even love me anymore
I never meant to hurt nobody
Nobody ever tore me down like you
I never meant to hurt no one
Now I'm taking what is mine
Letting go of my mistakes
Build a fire from what I've learned
And watch it fade away
Because I have no heart to break
I cannot fake it like before
I thought that I could stay the same
And now I know that I'm not sure
I even love me anymore