When the shirt came off, it was all in time When a m-m-m-minute turned into a mile And then I broke that grin, and I cut it out And you got all turned on by the taste of your sin When I mention blue, all you thought was color When you mention drugs, all I thought was sober When your pants came off and I turned you over When you mention blue Kill! Smile! Cut it out for me this time! Smile, haven't seen him smile in a while Keep the mask aligned Get it up in time There's a space between valleys and try and catch a vibe Make a circle square, a rectangle curve Use a smile as a noun and I think like a verb Run quick switch sides Spill the filled up canister And the room is shaking Now you're changing places, and I switched my pace, and my breathing races when you mention blue Kill! Smile! Cut it out for me this time! Smile, haven't seen him smile in a while Kill! Smile! Cut it out for me this time! (This is not (6x)) Smile, haven't seen him smile in a while Kill, smile, cut out for me cut it cut it out Smile, cut cut it out for me cut it cut it out We cut it out! Kill! Smile! Cut it out for me this time! Smile, haven't seen him smile in a while Kill! Smile! Cut it out for me this time! (This is not (6x)) Smile, haven't seen him smile in a while Get down and stay awake Smile
