

Shout About It

The Vamps

If you want words to get your mind at rest tonight
Come and shout about it
We can talk for 100 miles and drive where you're less surrounded.
'Cause I can see that the candle you hold inside has a cloud around it
How can a heart like yours be that high and dry,
When it burns the brightest?

I'm so sorry I can't stop myself from staring at you
When you're tired and blue, my dear.
It's just any reason that I get to be closer to you,
I wanna shout about it.
Woah, I wanna shout about it.

Beneath the window, and the water that's in your eyes,
It's where I know you're hiding.
There's a smile that could light up a thousand lives,
And you need reminding.
Tell me your fears don't let me live life alone,
Let me share the burden.
This seat beside you is a man you better know, no, no
Who you can't confide in

I'm so sorry I can't stop myself from staring at you,
When you're tired and blue, my dear,
It's just any reason that I get to be closer to you.
I wanna shout about it.
No, I wanna shout about it.

I'm not saying,
All I do will make everything you touch turn gold.
I'm just waiting to pull you through,
I'll take a little off the load.
Yeah, any reason that I get to be close to you,
I wanna shout about it.

I'm so sorry I can't stop myself from staring at you
When you're tired and blue, my dear.
It's just any reason that I get to be closer to you,
I wanna shout about it.
No, I'm gonna shout about it.
Oh, I wanna shout the loudest.
