I reside the vacant sides as the sky turns gray Paralyzed in my disguise I will fade away

Now I hide away from me, I can not fight this disease

I fell into the cracks in my head that's where I lost it That's where my world went wrong cause the night I crossed It I couldn't stop there cause my mind was gone so my sadness Has turned to madness now know that I have become the silent gun

What I thought was right turned out the light deep inside of me Once was alive but can't revive what I use to be

Now I hide away from me, I can not fight this disease

I fell into the cracks in my head that's where I lost it
That's where my world went wrong cause the night I crossed
It I couldn't stop there cause my mind was gone so my sadness
Has turned to madness now know that I have become the silent gu
