

How Beautiful You Are

The Vibrators

Walking in this world so strange
Everyone in a state of change
There's one thing you can almost see
And that's the power you have over me

So glad I met you, I knew I had to get you
Oh, how beautiful you are
I always wanna see you, I wonder how it is to be you
Oh, how beautiful you are

Things that I can't understand
Like the way you wanna take my hand
It's so hard to talk about
But it's like another sun's come out

I always wanna see you, I know I'd never leave you
Oh, how beautiful you are
Colours of every hue, still they can't describe you
Oh, how beautiful you are

The flight of the birds
Musical notes unheard
Fields and trees, mountains and seas
You're better to me than all of these

Sitting in a late night bar, sleeping in a speeding car
Oh, how beautiful you are Crossing the desert in the morning, out in space the stars are burning
Oh, how beautiful you are
The resolute hands of time, things appearing in my mind
Oh, how beautiful you are
Me in my black PVC is how you say you remember me
Oh, how beautiful you are

Your lovely new soft look, my heart like an open book
Oh, how beautiful you are
La la la la la la la la la
