

Letting You Go

The Vibrators

If I thought for a minute you'd change your mind,
I'd be down on the very next train.
But I heard from a few of our mutual friends,
That you don't wanna see me again.

Only you know the reasons why I can't cope,
With your clothes and your records all gone.
Went off with the keys, never once did you phone.
Left me lost and alone for so long.

Just what things you've been saying,
What games you've been playin',
Who with girl I'd rather not know.
Took all I gave and threw it back in my face,
Now I'm forced into letting you go.

Though I hoped for a while you'd call my bluff,
That you'd be back lying beside me.
For myself mother comfort was never enough,
Now it' seems like it's fait accomplie.

I'll know better next time around,
Should've guessed from the very start.
I waas oblivious to what's going down,
I've been left with a broken heart. (Oh Yeah -)

[Solo]

Just where things you've been staying,
What games you've been playin',
Who with girl I'd rather not know.
Took all I gave and threw it back in my face,
Now I'm forced into letting you go.

If I thought for a minute you'd change your mind,
I'd be down on the very next train.
But I heard from a few of our mutual friends,
That you don't wanna see me again.

[Outro:] Why d'ya have to let me down now baby, [repeat]
