

No One Can Save You

The Virus

You never seem to see the light of day
With open eyes you had to have your way

You don't know what to do
No one can save you
You don't know what to do
No one can save you

No one can save you

Where have those selfish choices got you now?
Your life just fell apart it's all around you

You don't know What to do
No one can save you
You don't know what to do
No one can save you

No one can save you

No it's up to you now

You don't know What to do
No one can save you
You don't know what to do
No one can save you

No one can save you
