Deathship Symphony

The Vision Bleak

Through moorland mist and fullmoon light - We claimed the devil-tongues!
We sailed the sea in ghoulish night,
Salt water filled our lounges...

We made our way through frost and snow, Under arctic skies.

Through monuments of steel - below! - A shadow did arise...

With fear you will stumble,

Before the deamons you will see.

From the grottos of hell to the dark Skies above -

The Deathship Symphony!
Once darkness has fallen,
There is no return!

Cursed to sail the sea of the damned

- The Deathship Symphony!
