

Fireworks

The Wedding

You put your stock in a girl you'd swear was all your own
But all the while you think you have something that you don't
And it took a while to walk away from that Yeah it took a while to walk away from that It's like I'd always say
Fireworks on the fourth of July making up the plans
Up the plans that you made
Nobody cares if there's no girl by your side
They're staring at the painted sky
I close my eyes and pretend your sitting here with me While I try to put my finger on exactly what it was that made y ou leave
Yeah it took some time to walk away from that
Yeah it took some time to walk away from that
And time is all that I have
It goes like this and we never walk away the past is the past but it's here to stay Pull it together boy you don't look so well and you got nothing but time to kill
