They see my brain melting and the only thing I tell em is that I'm living for the present and the future don't exist So baby take your clothes off A chance like this You may never get to show off Show off Show off what you talkin about Unless you like to tease baby And in reality you don't know how to please, baby Blue ball queen Take your fucking seat baby Or ride it out now Now I know you wanna scream baby I'm better than your next man And if you're swingin' I get you're dumber than the next man Cause I don't play Unless it's keys Then I play all day You like em keys We gon' play all day Wet dreams Fry your brain all day I think you lost your morals, girl But it's okay
