The Whip

Underground the heat is rising Casualties in need of hiding Charity for cable dreamers Every victim has reasons

Open arms still cursing out of sights (?) Just lead you have me heading for the lights, the lights.

Can you hear me underground? Can you hear me underground? Are you listening underground? Electricity we need.

Can you hear me underground? Can you hear me underground? We're surviving underground In the home of the star and the end

Footsteps at my feet go forward Future ? you claim no reward Left for dead in no great hurry ? the snow longer I worry (?)

Things are back making more sense To win or loses no consequence

Can you hear me underground? Can you hear me underground? Are you listening underground? Electricity we need.

Can you hear me underground? Can you hear me underground? We're surviving underground In the home of the star and the end

Things are alright we pretend.
