

29 X The Pain

The Wildhearts

Here sitting in my room
With the Replacements and Hüsker Dü
Like a rebel without a clue
And the Beatles and the Stones
Get to hang out with Ramones
And the Pistols shunning fame
As they sing the old refrain
As they always will again
Like 29 times the pain

I see Starz
And the mood is Big and Black
Well there's a full Sheer Heart Attack
But the Cheapest Trick of all
Is when I hear that London Called
I need something and I need it fast
I need Jason Scorching past
I need to feel they feel the same
'cause when they almost know my name

It's like 29 times the pain, times the pain
29 times the pain, times the pain
29 times the pain, times the pain
Times the pain
But it all ends up the same

Thanks Pink

Kiss my Heart
Like the Damned did from the start
Come on make me feel like me
SLF or BOC

Give me old, give me new
Let me know you feel it too
'cause with sounds that twist and curls
It's a brave new world

I'm up, how can I get down,
When I've got all my friends around?
And I can be there once again
Oh God, I miss Kurt Cobain

It's like 29 times the pain, times the pain
29 times the pain, times the pain
29 times the pain, times the pain
Times the pain (And all the gaps in all the gain)
Times the pain (Tomorrow always cries my name)
Times the pain (It makes it all worthwhile again)
