

So Into You

The Wildhearts

I like your big decisions
But I love the way you change your mind
I like your strength of vision
But I love the way that love is blind
I like that you've got bigger balls
Than almost all of the Special Forces
And I need you leaving me
Like UFOs need horses

So into you, so into you
I'm so into you, so into you
So into you, I'm so into you
So into you

I like when you've got opinions
But I love that you never take a side
I like that you ain't into millions
But I love that you expect me to provide
I like the way you make me feel
And if this ain't real, then I ain't breathing
And I love that you've given me
Exactly what I was needing

So into you, so into you
I'm so into you, so into you
So into you, I'm so into you
So into you
So into you, I'm so into you
So into you

I like your calm dependence
And I like your way with patience
I like your understanding
And I love what you're demanding
I like your taste in outfits
But I love your taste in misfits
And I know that when the shit hits
The toughest teeth grit: 'cos this is it

So into you, so into you
I'm so into you, so into you
So into you, I'm so into you
So into you
So into you, I'm so into you
So into you
So into you, I'm so into you
So into you
