Thunderfuck

The Wildhearts

And this is all - relax

There is no time to relapse

Take it green - take it blue

And with the world in his hands Where there were fields now there's land We made it here, made it this time

Because I can't picture a day when we was Born with nothing to say I guess I knew that he would freak out Thinking about old times Thinking about old times

And with the world in his ass!