

Prone To Wander

The Winans

Prone to wander, exploring the unknown
Prone to wander, seeing if we've grown

Destined to blunder, hope that I'll recover
Never to wander again

I never should have left your side
It took deep waters to make me realize

Now within your borders, void of any order
Never to wander again

I have been mixed with deep experience
Both good and bad, yes, good and bad

But it has caused me Lord
To love you more than I ever have, ever have

Prone to wander, no more my refrain
Cause I'll never leave your side no more again
Destined to blunder and hope that I'll recover

Never to wander, said I'll never leave your side
Never to wander, said I'll never leave your side
Neer to wander againT