The Wolfgang Press

Thinking surface looking under You want something look no further Thinking hard but working in a small time She was born in mid-town provincial

Down the road from Faust Harper Lee said it's allowed Mama wakes up raising money In the back room speaking like a sonnet

Did it a suicide come? Freak see-saw romance come Peak time sure sign She's here to serve it up

Like a dream She's a waltz Like I am She's so soft

Raising fools and it's no wonder What we have a care for we won't tear asunder We offend but she won't suffer She's like having heaven in your home

She's a dream Like a waltz She's a gas She's so soft

Like a dream She's a waltz She's a man She's so soft

You can suffer all your monies Rose and me still love you honey Could I face another day content that I was under But if you go leave your soul home She's so soft She's so soft

Thinking surface looking under You want something look no further Break it down softly she won't murmur She was thrown from big-town provincial

You get a suicide sun People there are neither hip nor dumb Peak time sure sign She's here to serve it up

Like a dream She's a waltz Like a man She's so soft Could I face another day content that I was under But if you go leave your soul to live in wonder If you go leave your soul home She's so soft, she defies the laws of line She's so soft, she defies the laws of line She's so soft, she defies the laws of line
