The Word Alive

I'm back for more
This stories heading for its final twist
(ready for its final twist)
I finally see what it means to cut you out
From the peace I lived without

I tried to see this through, so many times before
But you've always had a way of reeling me back, back for more

Back for more, of your fucking deceiving eyes
I can't describe how much I despised my life
I can't explain how much I wish you'd fucking die
(Wished you'd fucking die)

I want to know what you're thinking
When you find yourself alone
Do you even know what it means to be loved?

I'm back for more
I wanna tear you apart
I wanna see you fall to the floor
I wanna watch as you reach out your hand for mercy
And then you'll finally breathe no more
Breathe no more

Tell me what the hell were you thinking
Realize at best you're disgusting

I want to know what you're thinking
When you find yourself alone
Do you even know what it means to be loved?
I never thought that I'd find a way to say to you
I couldn't take anymore
I'd become something I hated to face everyday
I couldn't take anymore

Can't take anymore
I'm not me anymore
Can't take anymore
If you want me, Drag me to hell
Drag me to hell
If you had the chance, slash your wrists

I do believe
You love the misery

I wanna know what you're thinking
When you find yourself alone
Do you even know what it means to be loved?
I never thought that I'd find a way to say to you
I couldn't take anymore
I'd become something I hated to face everyday
I couldn't take anymore
I'm back for more
