Everyone but You

The Young Veins

A part of you left the room I am left talkin' to the apple She comes to me when I dream I'm tired of counting sheep to see her I sleep because I need her And everybody knows it but you

A wedding ring is just a thing That weighs you down and occupies your finger I know it sounds a little down But love is all I'm really after

She comes to me when I dream I'm tired of counting sheep to see her I sleep because I need her And everybody knows it but you, but you Everybody knows it but you

I hope you're all listening I'm pouring out my heart for paper A part of me still believes That love is all I'm really after

She comes to me when I dream I'm tired of counting sheep to see her I sleep because I need her And everybody knows it but you, but you Everybody knows it but you

Everyone but you knows Everyone but you Everyone but you knows Everyone but you
