

Time to Move

The Zombies

It's time to move
it's time to roll
feel it in my heart leave it in my soul and I give you one last chance to change the circumstance it's time it's time to move

never give your heart when it's just pretend never give your money it doesn't pay the land you got me running around like some poor crazy sound
it's time it's time to move

never see the real thing you can't tell it from the fake can't keep on hanging on too much for heaven's sake but it's time to move to the open road gonna find someone along help me share my load gonna get myself a chance gonna change the circumstance cause it's time it's time to move

how much can one man take
