

Spinning in Daffodils

Them Crooked Vultures

once, there in the rain i was able to strangle my shadow unshackle the chain once, what will you do is it safe to play god in the garden and king of the zoo holes, that need to be filled positions available yet some working hard to get out of them spinning in the daffodils dizzy from a dozen twirls
come, alone and alive you're afraid but that's not what i asked why not go for a ride?
sharpen your teeth my darlings sharpen your minds take a finger off the hand seize your shit, take one scalp at a time fans, they're as big as the wind like a canine that chases the bone that's tied to its tail i wish, i was a beautiful balloon i could rise up, above it all and fade out of view. gracefully fade out of view what have you turned into?
so high, i just may never come down
