A Strangers Heart

Theophilus London

I'm ripping your posters off the wall I'm moving the boxes into the hall I stop when I hear a drumbeat call Must be a sign, it is time

Five minutes has arrived, cab fare's paid She says she's outside and she's trying to get laid One bed in the room cashmere face When I touch her skin, the goose goose raise I'm trying to live it up on my last year's pay 2010 was a good year, hey I live six months like it's all in one day The UK, New York skies stay gray

And yea I'm still charming jams, stay A house by the beach, leave shoes on the bay The pulse beat beat turns me on in the morn' And race race race I complete our dance And bass bass bass got my feet on In brown loafers, and red sofas Momma said dance, cause I'm a steal hearts The lovers have arrived, where should I start, Jack!

It's not like my feet are stuck to the floor It's not like I'm wanting to know about the door I want you to throw my shoes in the fire And I'll watch the souls burn on the funeral pyre

And I'm over and it will change my position And I'll know that nobody, nobody's listening And that's easy for me and it's better for the soul And it's better for you and it's better for all

I like the way you look through my camera Why are you still dressed, are you an amateur? I hear the flash go, and it's your last go Hurry up the water in the bath, yo She love when I'm in control when she pass go Ha, take her to space like an astro Ain't nothing to eat but Castro (ew)

Now take my heart away And she the type that'll make me put my guard away Same time slippin This is very dangerous, and same time hitting And fall in love with a stranger, no different And one night with a stranger, no kissing And next bar, next drink got me slow sipping I'm not trying to wake up like Mr Eddie Griffin (Noocooo!)

I'm over with words, I'm moving in lines And all that I put is jump up inside, jump off the side

I will have to pull my heart away
