Just In Time

There for Tomorrow

Something wrong with me I'm not getting along with me My eyes pasted on the ceiling I can't get my mind to stop working

I knew all the blackest blues You were all my favourite tunes This was all I had to lose

Tried out for size To my surprise, I can't fit in anybody's arms No more diguise 'cause I realised I can't fit in anybody's heart Oh you, oh you You left just in time

Should've known to turn Get ahead of the curve but I've learned The failure sounds all to familiar to me To just get my mind to stop working

I knew all the blackest blues You were all my favourite tunes This was all I had to lose

Tried out for size To my surprise, I can't fit in anybody's arms No more diguise 'cause I realised I can't fit in anybody's heart Oh you, oh you You left just in time

As the light darkens again I lose myself within 'cause in the end Still I'm reminded Still I'm reminded

Tried out for size To my surprise, I can't fit in anybody's arms No more diguise 'cause I realised I can't fit in anybody's heart Tried out for size To my surprise, I can't fit in anybody's arms No more diguise 'cause I realised I can't fit in anybody's heart Oh you, oh you left just in time You left just in time