

Saave

There for Tomorrow

I am a third world product of inflation
Some second handed information down
So, you can watch me burn
I am a good boy with some bad ideas
The only child of all your fears, now

These days are playing out like re-run episodes
Well, I'm done, done with the same old, same old.
Sick for something more than just the common code
Well, I'm done, done with the same old, same old.
So save, save, save me from the light.
(Save me from the light!)

I am a pure fuel for all your fires
The spitting image of your worst desires, now
Now, sit back to live and learn
Come on now and get it right
It's only a moment, so let's waste some time
Just come down

These days are playing out like re-run episodes
Well, I'm done, done with the same old, same old.
Sick for something more than just the common code
Well, I'm done, done with the same old, same old.
Save, save, save
Save, save, save!

I could be your meaning
I could shoulder all your blame
Point me to the ceiling
So I can spark the flame

These days are playing out like re-run episodes
Well, I'm done, done with the same old, same old
Sick for something more than just the common code
Well, I'm done, done with the same old, same old!
Kiss me goodbye as I dive into tomorrow for the better life
So save, save, save
Save, save, save!
