

River Bend

Theresa Sokyrka

Your calloused hands have freckled me, placed my thoughts in places they've never been.
Times before this, I was withered and old,
but you sweetly stole my soul.

Take me to the river bend.
Take me wherever you want.
Cause you've shown me to places I've never been
and I plan to stay for some time.

Scattered pasts have placed us here.
Quicker lives and younger years.
My soul is awake with a heart that won't break
and I hope that you'll stay for some time.
Blow through my hair, with your gentle words.
Feed me timeless wisdom all night.
I feel your energy all over me
and I hope that you'll stay for some time.

Take me to the river bend.
Take me wherever you want.
Cause you've shown me to places I've never been
and I plan to stay for some wine.
