The Falling Stone

It's about to crack the crystal sphere

Let a flake of heaven fall to Man

(The) falling stone

Do you want them to read just like us, all the signs?

Fifteen runes on the cube, all of the keys above

Yes, let us give them Abaris wand

Fruits of wisdom make them all ascend to the sun

But they may be sunblind from the light of the stone

(the) burning crystals of light, the gem of Lucifer

I will bring them keys to eternity, on this ladder (they) all will come back to me

When they rise up, soon they will fall again like the angels, waiting for a descent

It's about to crack the crystal sphere

Let a flake of heaven fall to Man

(The) falling stone

Do you want them to read just like us, all the signs?

Fifteen runes on the cube, all of the keys above

I will bring them keys to eternity, on this ladder (they) all will come back to me

When they rise up, soon they will fall again like the angels, waiting for a descent
