

Your Love Runs Still

Thieves Like Us

Staring at the wall
My thoughts drift outside the window
When did life begin?
You cannot remember

Blessed be the day
That we get our act together
Staring at the wall
Another forever

You look and find a sacred will
Your love runs still, your love runs still
Cruising through life without a guide
Your love runs still, your love runs still
As you clear your head,
papers drift in through the window.
Finally a change
The decade is over

Stepped into a trap
Don't you know that life is lethal?
As you cry for help
You're happy remember?

You look and find a sacred will
Your love runs still, your love runs still
Cruising through life without a guide
Your love runs still, your love runs still
