

I Want to Believe in You

Third Day

Time has kept me waiting
Anticipating for something more
And life has kept me looking
But I'm not certain what I'm searching for

Faith is like the sunlight in my eyes
In my eyes
It can light the way
But then sometimes
It is so blinding

Heaven let your light shine down on me
Open up my eyes so I can see
Give me some faith so I believe in something
Heaven let your light shine down on me
Open up my eyes so I can see
Give me some faith so I believe in something

Hope is sometimes fading
But there'll be a day when it fades no more
Love, it lasts forever
Maybe that's what we're all looking for

Faith, just like the sunshine in my eyes
It burns so bright
It can light the way
But then sometimes
It is so blinding

Heaven let your light shine down on me
Open up my eyes so I can see
Give me some faith so I believe in something
Heaven let your light shine down on me
Open up my eyes so I can see
Give me some faith so I believe in something

I want to believe in something
I want to believe in you
I want to believe in something
I want to believe in you

Heaven let your light shine down on me
Open up my eyes so I can see
Give me some faith so I believe in something
Heaven let your light shine down on me
Open up my eyes so I can see
Give me some faith so I believe in something

I want to believe in faith and hope and life and dreams
Grace and love and all those things
Most of all, I want to believe in you

I want to believe in peace and freedom for all man
Redemption and a second chance
Most of all, I want to believe in you
I want to believe in You
