

Ready

Third Day

I'm ready for the winds to change
I'm ready for a brighter day
I'm ready for the sun to shine down on me

I'm waiting for a song to sing
I'm looking for a brand new thing
I'm ready now to live a life that I believe

I want the world to turn because of love
And mercy to find each of us
Doing what we can just to believe
I want the world to know that you're the one
Who fills me up and gives me hope
And brings about this change that's in me
Oh yeah, I'm ready
You know I'm ready now

I'm ready for the truth to be
Someone that can set us free
Does anybody still believe we'll still make it through

I'm ready now to take a stand
To live life for more than myself
Now tell me now my friend,
Are you ready too?

I want the world to turn because of love
And mercy to find each of us
Doing what we can just to believe
I want the world to know that you're the one
Who fills me up and gives me hope
And brings about this change that's in me
Oh yeah, I'm ready
You know I'm ready now

I can't sitting around waiting
For it all to change
It's going to take every single one of us
Doing what we can

There's lots of fighting in this world
But there is so much loving too
So take my hand
I'm ready now for you

I want the world to turn because of love
And mercy to find each of us
Doing what we can just to believe
I want the world to know that you're the one
Who fills me up and gives me hope
And brings about this change that's in me
Oh yeah, I'm ready
You know I'm ready now

Lord know I'm ready
You know I'm ready

I'm ready for the winds to change
I'm ready for a brighter day
