

Faster

Third Eye Blind

Horny & burnout now is how it always ends for me
Chemicals wear me down in your summertime bacchanalian
I saw you go

Faster

Than the morning comes
She walks away like a lady
It's always the fallen ones
I think are always going to save me
I saw you go

Faster

I want to get off one time and not apologize
You gotta steal the time of a life that's passing by

In bed she flexes her knees to try and abate the feeling
She mouths the words please to the poster on the ceiling
I saw you go

Faster

Right in front of me
She stares at him so madly
She's got the nerve to say
She wants to fuck that boy so badly
I saw you go

Faster

I want to get off one time and not apologize
You gotta steal the time from a life that's passing by
I want to get off one time and look you in the eyes
I want to get off one time, get off one time
I was hoping you would be waiting there for me lately
But you're not the kind who would be waiting, not for anybody
You're not the kind of girl who would be waiting for anybody, not even me

Just one time

I could go off right now

I want to get off one time and not apologize
You gotta steal the time from a life that's passing by
Not for sale
