

Self Righteous

Third Eye Blind

Everyone is so self-righteous
Lift your head again and try this

If you want this, I do
And I want this, but I can't break through
And I can see you begin to glow

Everyone is so self-righteous
Get up everyone
Were on our own now
Lift your head again try this

And feel you, I do
And I want this but I can't break through
And your burning lights red and blue

Everyone is so self-righteous

Where have you sinners gone
All you sinners

What's ours is ours
And were all alone
What's ours is ours
And outside rain
It's just a shower
And then I feel you breathe
And I let go of the hours
And I feel your skin
And I let you in
And that's my dream
Again and again
I feel the hours
Sliding by
Get up on your own now
Way up all alone now
Lift your head again and try this

Do you want this, in you
You're the only thing that's real
And we don't need to beg or steal

Everyone is so self-righteous
