

There's No Need To Question Why

Third World

There's no need to question why
There's no need to question why
My love takes me to another place, when I feel this feeling I forget time and space, hey lovely you can make the stars took dim, and honey I'm on fire within, oh
There's no need to question why I feel this way
There's no need to question why
Oh, I know. this must be a real situation, touching you I feel part of Jah creation moving through me, makes me feel so very strong, so to you & I, yes this is our song
There's no need to question why I feel this way
There's no need to question why I feel this way Cause that is how you make me feel
