This Beautiful Mess

how could i not interfere you're all that is dear to me has it ever been so clear have we ever been as near as we're now how can i be honest with you you know the truth would do us no good why do we choose to go so far when we're about to break some hearts how can you ask me to shut up do you really want all of this to stop how can you ask me to back off when you are the one that i really love
