

What Shall We Do

This Bike Is a Pipe Bomb

What should we do if we should leave?
What should we do if we should find the strength to leave?
Would it be a small town on a farm with some friends,
Or would it be a big city,
Grow apart and never see each other?
What should we do if we should stay?
What should we do if we should find the need to stay?
Would we grow old and bored with our environment
Or would be just grow better?
31 years and most were here.
31 years and I'm glad that most were here.
Would you have me to leave the singing handrails,
Hobo beach, and the gutter that applauds me
As I ride my bike home from downtown?
