

You Own No One But You

This or the Apocalypse

I hold the truth I swear I'll guard her
I fight hard
I think harder
This is a life of guilt
But we'll make every second count
So don't you let me down and I will never let you go
All of this fucking dirt
I know it well
I've been put back down more times than I can count
I get back up just to fall back down
Over and over and over again
But I'm worth it, this price I paid
And I will find my place where I belong Give me all you got They say the end is coming but where is the proof?
where is the proof this life has just begun?
You want a way out cause you've got nothing left You're looking back now with nothing but regret

Oh, this was your one chance to prove yourself
Get it right
You only got one shot at life
And I've got my secrets too but i don't lose sleep at night
You are too scared to move can't even close your eyes
With everyone who is nervously waiting Watching the clock as the seconds
Your seconds are constantly disappearing You're afraid of what you'll lose but I'll keep you safe tonight
But I'm worth it, this price I paid
And I will find my place where I belong
Where I belong
Every second counts.
