

We Wander Lonely

Thomas Giles

Eyes fold up from the day. Once alone in this crushing space
The coast is clear for us to fill again
The once impossible thought inside that I can't tear away
Slowly impairs my fragile mind

(We will)

Drift in the dark as our lives flow by

We are all lonely out here

Drift in the dark as our lives flow by

We are all lonely out here

A twisted move with every step. The thought we can't explain.

Do I even want to feel again?

The snow pours in our minds, chilling all to the bone.

Numbing us from what we once felt again.

(We will)

Drift in the dark as our lives flow by

We are all lonely out here

Drift in the dark as our lives flow by

We are all lonely out here
