

Watching

Thompson Twins

watching you... watching me
watching you... watching me I focus on a face in Samarkand accepting my reward
It brings alive my distant memories they're my last resort

(chorus)

watching you...watching me
(watching you...watching me)
a look left, look right

Dinosaurs are grazing in suburbia they're glowing in the dark Electrified they fight and fuss about they're eating up the park

(REPEAT CHORUS)

(REPEAT CHORUS)

The circuit boards are linking up in rhyme there is no reason why Except the dreams of soft machines we have no need to cry

(watching you... watching me)
watching you... watching me
(watching you... watching me)

I spend all of my time...

Watching you watching me
Yeah, watching you watching me
Yeah, watching you watching me...
(to fade)
