

All Fall Down

Thornley

Well ive pushed to far i cant turn back, sit around and wonder about the friends i lack, make your choice i'll follow your path, theres a fork in the road every mile and a half ooooh ooooh ooooh how'd i end up here?

ooooh oooooh ooooh

It never was quite clear

Well you know your never gunna change my mind, doesnt it seem like a waste of time, you know im always gonna cross that line and ill keep telling you it takes all kinds, one more ripple in a big flat world, find a little shelter baby girl, one more daddy from the lost and found, one more step and we'll all fall down.

Theres one more cross i have to bear, spend a little too much time down there, i wear my scars pink and proud they still cant say her name out loud

ooooh oooooh ooooh

I guess i lost my head

ooooh oooooh ooooh

lets put this thing to bed

Well you know your never gunna change my mind, doesnt it seem like
a waste of time, you know im always gonna cross that line and ill
keep telling you it takes all kinds, one more ripple in a big flat world,
find a little shelter baby girl, one more daddy from the lost and found,
one more step and we'll all fall down.
