

1000 Words

Those Dancing Days

You think I'm the biggest thought of your life Still I'm kind of little by your side
When you do not see things happening around You do see me even when I'm not there I know you want to feel me
So how come you don't dare to touch?

We've learned like a 1000 words, even in different letters
You can talk and spell and write, still with your opposite hand
So why is that so you don't know how to tell me things you really want to say, say out loud

Suddenly things start to pass me by They have all been here before No pleasant things, I know that for sure We all wear sunglasses when it's dark You let a sign who you really are But I see you nothing's like it used to be

We've learned like a 1000 words, even in different
letters
You can talk and spell and write, still with your
opposite hand
So why is that so you don't know how to tell me things
you really want to say, say out loud

We've learned like a 1000 words, even in different
letters
You can talk and spell and write, still with your
opposite hand
So why is that so you don't know how to tell me things
you really want to say, say out loud

We've learned like a 1000 words, even in different
letters
You can talk and spell and write, still with your
opposite hand
So why is that so you don't know how to tell me things
you really want to say, say out loud