

Glow

Thousand Foot Krutch

Today I died in search of you
It takes a cut to heal the wound
And I don't even understand it
Things didn't go the way I planned it
But these neon lights led me to you

And I don't know what I was told
Or why I walk the darkest road
But now these eyes see streets of gold

So burn me bright and let me go
Make me stronger on the inside
Hold me tight and just let go
'Cause I don't want it if I can't glow

My heart has grown right next to you
Your steady hands pulled me through
And every now and then I see it
The glimpse of what my life is meaning
But to do it right, you must let go

And I don't know what I was told
Or why I walk the darkest road
But now these eyes see streets of gold

So burn me bright and let me go
And make me stronger on the inside
And hold me tight and just let go
'Cause I don't want it if I can't glow

And burn me bright and let me go
And make me stronger on the inside
And hold me tight and just let go
'Cause I don't want it if I can't glow
