

Incomplete

Thousand Foot Krutch

No one knows the walls
that we've climbed,
the knots we've untied,
the shots that we've fired.
I have a lot of "friends"
who want what we've made
but don't know the pain,
the beasts that we've slain.
There's a lot of sharks
that swim in these waters,
they came for your sons,
they came for your daughters.
If you got a lot of heat,
it just makes it hotter,
the blood in this water's making us stronger.
(No one knows the walls that we've climbed,
the knots we've untied,
the shots that we've fired.
I have a lot of "friends"
who want what we've made
but don't know the pain,
the beasts that we've slain.)

We fight,
we bleed,
we live,
we breathe,
we fall beneath... Incomplete.
We rise,
we fall,
we chase it all,
we raise it up... Incomplete.

No one sees the space that we speed,
the red that we bleed,
the scars on our knees.
I've met a lot of friends with halos and wings that kiss when they hug, but kill when they sting.
No one ever said there wouldn't be waves, sometimes shovels have to dig graves.
I've burned a lot of matches tryin' to make flames,
and lips can sink ships,
but prayers create change.
(No one knows the walls that we've climbed,
the knots we've untied,
the shots that we've fired.
I have a lot of "friends"
who want what we've made
but don't know the pain,
the beasts that we've slain.)

We fight,
we bleed,
we live,
we breathe,

we fall beneath... Incomplete.
We rise,
we fall,
we chase it all,
we raise it up... Incomplete.

I won't let this fade away from you.
I won't stop until you do.
I won't wait, I'll run when you say "Move".
I'll stand and I'll fight for you.

We fight,
we bleed,
we live,
we breathe,
we fall beneath... Incomplete.
We rise,
we fall,
we chase it all,

We fight,
we bleed,
we live,
we breathe,
we fall beneath... Incomplete.
We rise, we fall,
we chase it all,
we raise it up... Incomplete.
